LEGISLATIVE SESSION ENDS; MILLER'S WISHES COMPLETELY CARRIED OUT

Is Example of Real Economy in Government and Has Done Vast Amount of Work Under Personal Direction of Governor Whose Party Was in Overwhelming Control.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Albany, N. Y., April 16.—The 1921 legislature came to an end today.

Overwhelmingly Republican, the legislature enacted and placed on the statute books every recommendation made to it by Governor Nathan L. Miller.

The session will go down in the legislative history of the state as an economy session. Paced by the biggest budget ever sought for conduct of state government, the legislature passed a series of bills under the personal direction of the governor, brought record reductions and a saving to the state of close to $10,000,000.

The legislature accomplished big things. Chief among the new laws it enacted are:

Reorganization of state regulation of public utilities through formation of a three headed transit commission, charged solely with conduct of New York's transit and a reorganization of the statewide public service commission, given jurisdiction over every other public utility. This legislation is admittedly "the test" of the Miller administration.

Partial repeal of the direct primary and restoration of party nominating conventions for state and judicial offices.

New statutes placing the state's police power back of the Federal government to drastically enforce prohibition. Under this legislation the old state excise department and everything that savored of state regulation of the liquor traffic is eliminated.

Legislation establishing a long-sought state water power policy, another Miller recommendation. This legislation gives to private corporations the right of developing and selling state's hydro-electric resources.

Establishment of state censorship over movies. This measure serves also as a means of increasing state's treasury.

Reorganization of state regulation over boxing and wrestling. The "game" again brought under discipline, because of alleged commercialism, is given "another chance" by Governor Miller by his approval of a three headed non-salaried supervising commission.

Again acting under Governor Miller's dictation, the legislature sanctioned reorganization of the tax department, and industrial commission. The tax reorganization strips every state agency except a new tax department, of every vestige of tax-collecting agencies. It leaves the state comptroller an auditing officer simply, takes the automobile bureau from the secretary of state and places all other departmental taxing agencies under the new commission.

The industrial commission has been reorganized under a single commission and three headed quasi-judicial board.

In connection with the governor's economy program, the legislature abolished the narcotic drug control commission, the office of superintendent of election, the state military training commission and virtually the entire Americanization bureau in the state education department.

Legislative approval was also given to the proposal to amend the state constitution to provide for further consolidation of state departments. Under this amendment, existing departments would be pared to twenty-two.

The legislature voted to take care of world war veterans. It created machinery to distribute the state's $12,000,000 bonus. It provided a $10,000,000 bond issue for the first payments.

A disability fund for world war disabled veterans was also created. Under further legislation enacted, the legislature provided for submission to the people this November the question whether war veterans should be given preference in civil service.

Another new departure is the sanctioning of a state board of estate and control. The board is to have complete jurisdiction over all state expenditures. It will make up the annual budget. It is regarded as one of the governor's most drastic recommendations in his economy program.

The legislature abolished the publication of session laws in newspaper. The legislation carries out another Miller recommendation. It is claimed it will save close to $1,000,000.

ARKANSAS TORNADO KILLS SCORES; IS PART OF BIG STORM HEADED EAST

Cold, Snow and High Winds General From Rockies To Middle West--Blizzard in Kansas--Enormous Damage To Property and Many Persons Hurt.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Hope, Arkansas, April 16.—Thirty-two known dead in Hempstead county, hundreds of homes wrecked, wire communication with the outside world cut off, trains delayed and hundreds homeless was the official toll at 9 o'clock today from the tornado which late yesterday swept through southwestern Arkansas.

Little Rock, Ark., April 16.—Reports reaching Little Rock early today indicate that 39 persons were killed and scores injured in the tornado which swept over southwestern Arkansas late yesterday. Property damage will be enormous and no attempt has been made to estimate it.

Chicago, April 16.—Practically the entire section of the United States from the Rocky Mountains to the Great Lakes, is being swept today by the worst storm of the season. Deep snows, heavy rains and high winds have played havoc with transportation and communication systems and caused much property damage and suffering.

In the south the storm took the form of a tornado, spreading havoc throughout the states of Arkansas and Mississippi. Many lives have been lost and tremendous property damage has resulted. Rain and snow are falling in sections of the south-west. Kansas City reports an all night snow, with blizzards prevailing at Salina and Clay Center.

Washington, April 16.—The storm that has swept the middle Mississippi valley will move north-eastward, attended by general precipitation in the states east of the Mississippi during the next 24 hours, the weather bureau announced today. Colder weather will follow the storm, the weather bureau predicts.

PREPARING FOR TWILIGHT LEAGUE

So far two teams have entered the Twilight Baseball League according to A. W. Buley, in charge of the league. The teams are from St. Peter's and the Tiger A. C. He also stated that he understood that the Elm A. C., the U. & D. shops, winner of the 1920, and the K. of C. were also expecting to enter teams. He expects no difficulty in having eight teams entered in the league this season. The season will open about June 1. All teams desiring to enter should notify him at once so that a meeting of managers and captains can be called to arrange the playing schedule. Games will be played at Forsyth Park and Hasbrouck Park as in past seasons.

LEGION'S WORK FOR DISABLED

Explained to Local Post by State Officer—Auxiliary Gets Charter—Big Plans for Legion Ball.

Charles G. Blakeslee, state commander of the American Legion, was unable to be present at the meeting of the Kingston Post Friday evening, being detained at Binghamton. H. W. Robertson, assistant to the state commander, however, was present and spoke on the work and aims of the American Legion. He pointed out the objects of the Legion, the first and most important one at present being the care of the wounded and disabled men. Through the efforts of the American Legion the compensation of disabled men has been increased from $30 to $80 a month for total permanent disability. The Legion has also been instrumental in having proper hospitals provided for the care of the men.

Mr. Robertson also spoke of the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion, which at the present time is growing more rapidly than the Legion itself. The Auxiliary is to be a separate organization to work with the Legion. The plans for the coming military ball to be given by the Legion was discussed and a committee of arrangements appointed. The ball is to be known as the American Legion military and naval ball. This name was decided upon in preference to calling it the "Poppy Ball." The ball will be held Wednesday, May 4.

Bernard Roach was made general chairman and with him the following committee was appointed: Mrs. L. Bole, Mrs. S. Matthews, Mrs. George Conner, Mrs. A. Sutton, Mrs. B. Roach, Mrs. W. Newkirk, Miss Madeline Woerner, John Sweney, R. E. Leighton, William Newkirk, Eugene B. Carey and E. Leutke.

Chairmen of the various other committees appointed are as follows: Refreshment—Mrs. Stanley Matthews. Entertainment—Mrs. L. Bole, Mr. and Mrs. Sutton and Mrs. Matthews. Tickets—Eugene B. Carey. Publicity—John Sweney. Recreation—H. Roach.

Music will be furnished by Balfe's orchestra and there will be entertainment by local talent during the evening. The complete program will be announced as soon as the committee on entertainment has completed the program.

A meeting will be held on April 19, at which time complete plans will be arranged.

The Women's Auxiliary received their charter at the meeting Friday evening and it will be formally presented by Miss Sweney, head of the Women's Auxiliary of New York state, on the evening of the ball.

PLAYGROUNDS OPEN JUNE 20

Kingston's playground season will open June 20 with practically the same force of directors in charge of the various playgrounds as last season, according to A. W. Buley, director of physical recreation, this morning. There will also be swimming classes at the Y. M. C. A. as in other seasons and the schedule will be made public as soon as completed, as well as the names of the directors for the various playgrounds.

SCHOOL LEAGUE TO START SOON

School 3 Has Two Legs On Covered Cup—May Get Grounds Centrally Located—Five Years of Success.

Everything is in readiness for the official beginning of Kingston's own little grand circuit of baseball known as the public school baseball league. This league has been conducted for the past five years and is one of the athletic features that the younger athletes of the city look forward to.

The league is conducted by the Y. M. C. A. The executive power of the league rests in a committee appointed by Superintendent Mirhael and is composed of Principals Van Valkenburg, Neagher and Garrison and Director of Physical Education Buley and Physical Director N. A. Dillinger of the Y. M. C. A. This committee has drafted a constitution and rules and all policies and questions are settled by it.

The rules of the league provide that each boy must be a bona fide member in scholastic standing, satisfactory to the principal. All league games are limited to five innings and are scheduled to begin at 4 p. m. Each school is assessed a pro rata amount to provide balls and bats.

Each one of the eight public schools and the St. Mary's Parochial school are entered in the league. Following the plan that worked so successfully last year, the league will be divided into the up-town and down-town sections, and the winner in each section will play a series of games to decide the league champion. A large silver cup is awarded to the winner each year. School Three, already owning two legs on the cup and needing only this year's championship to become a permanent owner, is hot on the trail of all competitors.

The majority of games will be played at Forsyth Park and McVey's Field. There is a possibility of grounds in the central part of the city being secured and if so a fair proportion of games will be so scheduled.

SHRINERS' ANNUAL DINNER APRIL 22

The annual dinner of the Kingston Shriners Association will be held Friday evening, April 22, at the Hotel Stuyvesant at 8 o'clock and the invitations will be limited to Shriners and their wives. The dinner will be provided by a business meeting at the rooms of Kingston Lodge, No. 10, F. & A. M., in Masonic Hall, Wall street.

ARCHBISHOP HERE TOMORROW

Archbishop Hayes to Open Catholic Charities Campaign at St. Mary's Sunday Evening.

Archbishop Hayes from New York will sound the initial bell in the campaign for Catholic Charities, that is about to begin at a meeting in St. Mary's school hall Sunday evening, April 17, at 8 o'clock. To this meeting have been invited the Catholic clergy throughout the county. A complete exposition of the Catholic charitable activities in the archdiocese will be given under the title, "Vinoyard of the Lord."

In order to place the work of charity on an elevated scale, the archbishop himself is correcting the topic in the important sectors of the archdiocese. Last year when the work was inaugurated a realization of $640,000 was perfected. Many charitable enterprises were then established, institutions were constructed on elaborate systems. The appeal to the people is met by the attraction of their sympathy and support, for all people's conditions are not comprehensive under this slogan, "God is charity; roof for the homeless, heal the sick, save the boy, protect the girl, charity is kind." This jurisdiction of charity has been most loyal to this worthy cause and a large audience that will give the archbishop tomorrow evening, will be an attestation of their sympathy and support.

Local Advisory Committee Decide That Amount Is Needed For Work Here—Army's Work Is Varied and Covers World.

Evangelistic work is only one of the many activities of the Salvation Army and the street meetings which are held each night in the year form the only public gathering of the members outside their own barracks. Fresh air camps, children's homes, a missing friends' bureau, prison work, slum settlements, work among ex-servicemen, rescue homes, maternity hospitals, free employment bureau and general help and aid to the "down and out" are a few of the many branches of service to which the Army is devoting itself throughout the country.

Because of the great variety of social service rendered by the Army, and its thorough and successful methods, the welfare work of communities everywhere is being entrusted to the Army, whose organization covers the entire world.

After careful study of the Salvation Army methods of welfare work and its results, the advisory committee of the local branch of the Army, whose names have been heretofore published, has pledged itself to raise $5,000, which has been determined as the amount needed to defray the expenses of the Army's welfare work in this vicinity for the coming year, and an appeal in the form of a circular letter has therefore been sent out by the committee.

The plan of helping each community and having each community in turn assist the Salvation Army by these advisory boards has already been successfully demonstrated in twenty-four states. It is not an experiment but has been subjected to every test and has come through successfully. The experience of Salvation Army officers has been that in territory where the plan now undertaken here has been in operation, a better community spirit has been fostered and a definite step towards prevention instead of cure of social ills has been accomplished.

RHINEBECK FERRY TO CHANGE TIME

The summer time table of the Rhinebeck and Kingston Ferry will take effect on Sunday, April 23. The time table now in preparation will show daylight saving time, service from Kingston from 7 a. m. to 11 p. m., and from Rhinebeck from 7:24 a. m. to 11:24 p. m., being furnished. This will provide connections with all the New York Central trains with which it has been customary to make connection during the summer season. The time table of the New York Central Railroad will, effective April 24, show eastern standard time, although the time of a number of trains has been adjusted to meet the requirements of patrons using daylight saving time.

MUSIC AND CLAMS HATH CHARMS THAT BRING DOWN PRICE OF GASOLINE

After Filling Up on Clams and Fixin's, Automotive Men Find Business So Good That They Ask One Another to Cut the Price of Gasoline—Discuss Everything But the Purpose for Which the Meeting Was Called.

Opening the exercises of the evening by giving three loud cheers for the Automotive Dealers of Kingston—themselves—as proof that modest worth is sure to be recognized by those who possess it, the members of the former Kingston Automotive Dealers' Association, now "the Automotive Dealers of Kingston-on-Hudson," affiliated with the Chamber of Commerce, spent a hilarious evening at Lake Katine on Friday and almost floundered themselves trying to eat all the food set before them by Landlord Cuneo. But nobody, not even Automotive men, has ever succeeded in causing a shortage of food at a clam bake that Mr. Cuneo has anything to do with.

Of course, in one respect, it was a denatured clam bake, entirely within the Volstead law, but the men who woke Rip Van Winkle up and organized the best automobile show ever given outside a very large city didn't care about that. Their show was a success, business is good and they felt so happy that it is hard to tell what would have happened had there been any further stimulation.

The combination of bright business prospects, a full stomach, a naturally happy disposition, the soothing strains of music by an orchestra and the sweet singing by a beautiful cabaret singer who warbled sentimental lyrics, brought about such an amiable frame of mind that the Automotive men, after some discussion, thought it well to make everybody else happy by reducing the price of gasoline in Kingston from 31 to 29 cents a gallon.

Announcement that their request for affiliation with the Chamber of Commerce had been accepted by the directors, unanimously and joyfully, was received with joyful sounds.

Discussion of the traffic law as enforced in Kingston brought out a variety of opinions, all supporting the fairness and good intentions of the police, much of it strongly in favor of enforcement as now carried on and some of it adverse to traffic officers not in regular police uniform.

After taking due note of the color and design of the president's new hat and appointing a committee to receive bids for a supply of hats exactly like it for all Automotive men, business conditions were informally discussed and instances cited showing great increase over the corresponding period last year. One garage reported having sold in the past month 9,000 gallons of gasoline more than it sold in the corresponding period last year. Others reported similar increases and increased sale of cars. It was agreed that while gasoline prices loom large in the mind of the automobilist, the sale of gasoline is only an incident in the business of the garage and as the season is at hand when gasoline sales are heavy, it would help to boost business generally if the price of gasoline could be reduced. Not being like a trade union that fixes prices, the Automotive men were rather puzzled as to what action to take as a body, but, finally as everybody had individually favored a reduction, a resolution was adopted unanimously, recommending that gasoline be sold at 29 cents a gallon.

If Standard Oil wholesale prices go up, or down, it is understood that a corresponding change will be made in the retail price as soon as the dealers are notified. The new price of 29 cents a gallon will be in effect all over the city by Monday morning.

After talking over everything else that anybody could think of, which took until after midnight, the party broke up without even mentioning the business that it had assembled to dispose of, which was hearing and passing on a final report of the show that woke up Rip Van Winkle.

WANTS SEIZED LIQUOR RETURNED

Attorney for Michels and Terpenning Contends Enforcement Officers Exceeded Authority When They Went Into Houses of Michels and Terpenning Without Search Warrants.

The matter of the alleged violation of the Federal Prohibition law by Casper Michels of Delaware avenue and Charles Terpenning of Hasbrouck and Foxhall avenues came up at Newburgh before U. S. Commissioner Collins Friday afternoon. Several days ago Federal Prohibition Agents Caulfield and Hainor visited this city, searched the places of Michels and Terpenning, seizing in the former's place about a pint and a half of what the agents allege is whiskey, also two or three bottles of white or Rhine wine, which they found in an ice box in an adjoining room. THE OFFICE CAT

By Junius

"Now all you little boys who want to go to heaven lift up your right hands."

All hands went up except one in the school room.

"Why, Isidore, don't you want to go to heaven?"

"No. My papa says business has gone to Hell, and I want to be where the business is."

But They Do.

It's hard to make the average seventeen year old girl believe that when she is forty those glorious dimples will turn to wrinkles.

Or A $1 Shirt.

If the average wife has thought of every imaginable way to spend her allowance, and has exhausted the entire repertoire, then she is almost sure to buy her husband a red necktie.

Nothing is more touching than the retailer story to the customer when he tries to explain why the prices do not decline.

The difference between poetry and verse is that anybody can understand verse.

There is no one so disagreeable as the fellow who almost agrees with you.

Wasted effort, I e., a jet black colored citizen wearing a pair of horn-rimmed glasses.

Some time ago this col. inquired, "what has become of the old-fashioned feller who jingled his money in his pants pocket?"

It has finally dawned upon us that a feller is in luck to have a pair of pants these days, let alone anything to jingle in 'em.

Luther Burbank may yet be able to make a wall flower look like a perfect peach.

The crying need of the cities is not more blue laws but more blue-cats.

The law-abiding American is necessarily in his declining years.

The Story of Our States

By JONATHAN BRACE

XXXIII.—OREGON

IT WAS the Spanish who laid claim to the discovery of our Pacific coast. In 1543 Ferrello possibly sailed as far North as the Oregon boundary. In 1579 Sir Francis Drake explored for England the coast considerably north of this. Other Spaniards made further explorations and Captain Cook, the English navigator, in 1779 landed at Nootka Sound and gave it its name. Thus both Spain and England laid claim to this region.

The American rights to this territory were based on the discovery of the Columbia river in 1792 by Captain Robert Gray, who sailed from Boston in the ship Columbia to open up fur trade. Many American fur traders followed and in 1811 John Jacob Astor, the head of the Pacific Fur company, established a settlement called Astoria at the mouth of the Columbia. The real opening of the Northwest was the result of the famous Lewis and Clark expedition.

By 1843 a decided flow of emigrants from the East travelled over the Oregon Trail from Kansas City to the Columbia river, and thus into Oregon. The trip over this route occupied about three months and the settlers generally travelled in large parties to withstand any possible attacks from Indians.

American settlers became so numerous that the United States actively laid claim to this region. Spain had been forced to withdraw any rights she may have had when Florida was ceded in 1819. This left England and America quarrelling over this section of the country. Final settlement, with definite boundaries between the United States and Canada, was made in 1846.

The Oregon territory was formed in 1846 and the State of Oregon was taken into the Union in 1859 with an area of 96,000 square miles.

TOO MANY ON THE JOB.

The number of organizations which are collecting funds for the relief of humanity in all parts of the world shows no signs of decreasing; possibly because human suffering is increasing, possibly because Americans are waking to a sense of their duty, but probably because the World War brought into existence an entirely new business, that of the professional relief committee organizer.

With our own entrance in the war there was built up a tremendous organization which undertook the necessary task of selling Liberty bonds, raising funds for the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army and other relief organizations. The campaigns so conducted were remarkably successful. Even before the war ended relief committees of various kinds were organized while committees already existing sought to expand. All of them found ready helpers among the men and women whose efficiency as organizers had been put to a severe test.

Literally tons of publicity matter are being furnished to newspapers throughout the United States by different organizations and committees, most of which complain because their publicity gets no further than the waste basket. Sometimes they try to use local influence to secure publication. They furnish free of charge quantities of pictures, cuts and matrices. Newspapers would have no room for local news if they printed all the free publicity matter received.

All these things cost money. It also requires money to pay for faithful organizers, letters, postage, expressage, office rent, stenographers, clerical help and a hundred other incidental overhead expenses. The Near East, China, Central Europe, devastated France, Belgium—a host of places are calling for help, and a host of committees are trying to get it.

But in the competition for public support there is duplication of expense and loss of energy, besides wanton waste of perfectly good paper, printer's ink and postage stamps. During the war we entrusted European relief to the Red Cross and Herbert Hoover. Both are still very much alive and no doubt could continue to give satisfactory reports for other sections of the globe whose relief might be entrusted to their care. A central organization would cost less, collect more and apportion funds with better judgment than the innumerable organizations now engaged in good works for particular localities. Men and women prominent in smaller organizations may fear to lose their personal prominence or identity with charitable movements, but are they not working solely to relieve humanity rather than to secure aggrandizement?

THAT WAGGING TAIL.

Of course anyone who does not bow to the will of New York city and imitate the metropolis in all things is a "hick." Of course the common council of any city is bigger than the congress of the United States and has a perfect right to nullify an act of congress or of the state legislature. "Main Street" is bigger than the nation, the state or the laws of Nature, and can turn them all upside down and inside out any time its three Tailors see fit to make a demand on the local legislative body. Therefore it is surprising to find the New York Sun joining the ranks of the "hicks" and publishing under the heading, "The Tail Wagging the Dog," the following editorial:

Connecticut's 1,200,000 and more order loving inhabitants have, through their Legislature, rejected daylight saving. Literally the three pieces of the famous clock making state will tell the truth about the fight of hours in summer as they do in winter. The public often, the courts, the railroads will all stick to the chronology of the nation.

But New London, with 25,000 of Connecticut's million and a third of people, is going to have daylight saving anyway. Its civic bodies have voted to defy the Legislature. The New London clocks will be set ahead April 24; New Londoners and visitors to New London must solve the puzzle of two times whenever they want to catch a train or meet an acquaintance or buy a breakfast for business men and vacation seekers, travelling by railroad, by steamship and by motor car to and from the industrial areas and summer playgrounds of New England. Visitors will be inconvenienced and many of them will be put to actual loss by the private New London adjustment of clocks.

Because New London is a small town, the presumption of its revolt against legal Connecticut time is outstanding. But there is another town, not as small as New London, which has set itself up as its own master in this matter. That is New York city.

After a full and fair trial, after free discussion of its advantages and disadvantages, New York state has abandoned daylight saving. That abandonment records the adverse decision of the people on this experiment. But New York city has decided to make its own time during the summer and by its bulk and influence to enforce acceptance of its arbitrary, incorrect clock dial on its neighbors. Itself being the tail, it elects to wag the dog.

The country got standard time because the nuisance of varying times became intolerable a generation ago. The men of the '80s had sense enough to see that nationwide time uniformity was essential to comfort in business and social affairs. If the establishment of local time at variance with standard time keeps up, with the consequent annoyance and loss to farming and business men, the United States government is likely to be compelled to establish by statute a time system which shall be countrywide in its application and proof against local manipulation.

So long as the dog submits to being wagged by the tail, the tail will continue its activities in "putting things over" by sheer impudence. "Daylight Saving" is not the only field of the wagging tail's activities.

Answers to Previous Questions

1. Where does the silver fox live? The "silver fox," that is, a black fox with white tips to some of its hairs, is raised in captivity for its fur largely in the Canadian Province of Prince Edward Island. Other ranches have been tried in Maine, Michigan, Alaska and Newfoundland. Only localities with plenty of cold weather and at least moderate rainfall are adapted to raising this animal.
2. How did the trees get their names? Their scientific names are given them in Latin, a dead, and hence an unchanging language, by botanists. Linnaeus, a famous Swedish botanist of the 18th century gave many plants and trees their standard names. The everyday names in different languages come from different sources and old words. We call the tree Salix a "willow" from a Old-World word meaning a basket, baskets having long been made from willow with.
3. What is the tiny olive-green bird that flies about low trees and bushes in groups during our summers? This is rather indefinite. Identifying birds requires data as to size, markings, shape and color of bill, color of feet and legs, shape of wings and tail. Very likely this bird was a female goldfinch, which is an olive-green, and as goldfinches are social and keep together in bands, perhaps some of the birds were immature young, resembling the female.

Grangers Out To Win.

Mount Tremper, April 15.—John Davidson, master of the Mt. Tremper Grange, No. 1,463 and committee, W. C. Risley, N. B. Van Wageningen accompanied by B. F. Moe, made an extensive canvass by auto, soliciting new members the past two days, with great success securing between 40 and 50 applications for new membership. Out of this number a great many were found waiting the opportunity to join this Grange. Owing to the limited time of Mr. Moe, they were unable to make as large a canvass as anticipated, but all persons wishing to save money and help themselves, may send in their names and receive the desired information from the above committee.

WILBUR AVENUE REBUILT $27,717

That is What It Would Cost According to Estimate Submitted to Board of Public Works—Who Owns Trains?—Other Matters at Monthly Session.

To rebuild Wilbur from Abbot street to Henry street would cost $27,717.50, according to an estimate submitted by Superintendent Van Keuren at the regular monthly meeting of the board of public works held Friday afternoon at the city hall. Supervisor George Schick and Alderman James W. Purvis of the Thirteenth ward were both present at the session to urge the board to rebuild the road.

The petition signed by nearly three hundred taxpayers of the Thirteenth ward asking that the board rebuild Wilbur avenue and remove the tramway from the street was read.

Mayor Canfield said that the question had arisen as to who owned this tramway. If the city owned it there would be no question raised if the city took it up.

Alderman Purvis said that the city had taken up the tramway on the other streets on which it had been laid, and also on the upper end of Wilbur avenue itself.

To remove the tramway, Superintendent Van Keuren estimated would cost about $650.

Supervisor Schick asked the board to come down and look over the situation and see if it was not dangerous. School children have to wear rubbers after a rain storm to walk on Wilbur avenue. The residents desired something done to place the avenue in passable condition. There was not much use in repairing the street, however, until this stone tramway was removed.

The question of who owns the tramway was referred to Corporation Counsel Brinley to ascertain, while the matter of rebuilding the avenue was referred to the street committee to report back what could be done to remedy conditions.

Permits of Various Kinds.

The Postal Telegraph was allowed to place a bicycle rack in front of the new office on Fair street.

B. Loughran & Company were given permission to open street at Albany and Foxhall avenues, to install water for the Hudson Oil Company, and on Garden street, subject to the usual conditions.

L. F. Bannon Company were given permission to excavate for water and sewer for the new addition to the New York Telephone Company on West O'Reilly street.

Stuyvesant Garage was given permission to install a gas pump in front of 247 Clinton avenue, across the street from the garage, subject to revocation.

The Stuyvesant Garage also asked permission to remove present large sign, and install a smaller one, which was granted.

The Kingston Gas & Electric Company were given permission to open street at 214 East Union street, 7 New street and 136 Prospect street to install gas service.

What Bridge Will Carry.

In response to a request from the board the Ulster & Delaware railroad sent in a communication calling attention to the fact that the railroad bridge on Albany avenue would carry safely a ten ton load, and the Elmendorf street bridge an eight ton load.

The board will erect proper signs calling attention to the carrying capacity of both bridges.

It was brought out that before the war the railroad had had plans all drawn for the construction of concrete bridges to replace the present structures, and that probably some time in the future the plans would be carried out.

Requests Denied And Granted.

The request of Marshall Rooms to install a gas tank in front of 122-124 North Front street was denied because the trolley switch was in front of the place, and if the tank was installed a trolley car would have to stop running while an auto was getting gas owing to the narrowness of the road between the track and the curb at that point.

Joseph Paolo was given permission to erect wooden signs in front of 177 Foxhall avenue.

May Raise Strand Grade.

The question of raising the grade on the Strand, between Sycamore and Gill streets, was discussed. City Engineer Codwise was directed to prepare an estimate of the probable cost. There is a pronounced dip in the road between those two streets, and as the board expects to lay Wilbur on that street some day it is seriously thinking of raising the grade as stated. If the grade is raised the board will also have to stand the expense of raising the sidewalks, curbs and gutters.

Resolutions from the common council were read, and action taken on them, and the board then adjourned.

THE PASSOVER.

Celebration Begins This Year on Friday, April 23.

Passover, the feast of the unleavened bread, is to be celebrated this year beginning Friday evening, April 22, and continuing a week, the concluding service of the holiday falling on Friday, April 29.

The festival of Passover, called in Hebrew "Pesach," reaches back to remote antiquity when it was observed by the early Hebrew tribes as an agricultural spring festival. At an early period Pesach was transformed into a festival celebrating the redemption of the Hebrews from Egyptian slavery.

By connecting this festival with the wonderful deliverance of the Hebrews from the Egyptian yoke, now almost forgotten, it has been preserved for its observance.

The festival and the ritual ceremony observed during the seven days in which it is celebrated among the Orthodox, is not only identified with the exodus of the children of Israel from Egyptian slavery but further symbolizes joy in the triumph of liberty and freedom over oppression and slavery.

The festival of Pesach was used by the synagogue as a means of consecrating the Jewish home to God, who is regarded as the redeemer and protector of Israel. The story of the deliverance of their forefathers from bondage and slavery reminded the Jews of God's providential guidance and gave them confidence in their final redemption from all oppression and woe.

During the Passover week the "matzo," unleavened bread, is eaten. This food, described as the "bread of affliction," is a symbol reminding the present generation of the hasty exodus of Israel from the land of oppression.

The feast of Passover is ushered in with a home ceremony, the "Seder," held on the eve of Passover. All members of the family participate in its observance. The ritual of the Seder includes the reading of a richly adorned tale of deliverance, "The Hagadah," wherein the various events leading up to the exodus and immediately following are told.

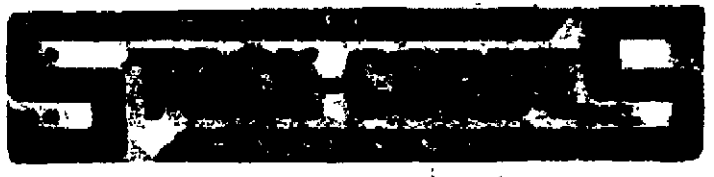

The Richest Man in the World

IN that letter which Edward J. Meyers of Pierce, Nebraska, wrote to his newspaper, and which has since received so much publicity all over the country, the keynote of Mr. Meyers's claim to being the richest man in the world was home and family.

PERHAPS you read the article we refer to or, if not, write The Daily News, Norfolk, Nebraska, and get a copy. The point in the story is that riches consist of things other than money, such, for instance, as a happy family in a home furnished by Stock & Cordts Company, in your own good little city of Kingston.

EVEN tho you were Rockefeller or Morgan, you could not have a more correct, graceful or beautiful suite of furniture in your dining room than the exquisite setting shown above, altho the price is so low we refrain from mentioning it here.

FURNITURE from this store will make you rich in the right way—rich in comfort, happiness, contentment. Why not invest a little with us along those lines?

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS OF WEEK

Wednesday morning W. Carson Ryan, Jr., educational editor of the New York Evening Post, spoke to the high school students on what they might do after they graduated from high school. Mr. Ryan's talk was very instructive and interesting. Later he spoke to the Rotarians at their luncheon at the high school lunch room that noon.

Friday morning the students were treated to a brief debate on "Women are more ambitious than men." Misses Frances Geroldick and Helen Carroll upheld the affirmative side of the question while the negative was defended by Matthew Cahill and Edmund Drake. There was not sufficient time to give the refutation so the judges were asked to give their decision on the direct argument. The result was that the affirmative still had a chance to win out after they had time to give their rebuttal.

Next Saturday evening at 8 o'clock the Kingston High School Debating Team will debate the Schenectady High School Debating Team for the Rutgers Interscholastic Debating cup. Kingston won over Poughkeepsie while Schenectady defeated Albany High. The question is "Resolved. That the United States should maintain a navy at an effective strength equal to that of Great Britain."

Both Schenectady and the local team now have a two to one decision defending the affirmative side. This time Schenectady will have the negative while Kingston will retain the affirmative.

MISS PITTS ELECTED.

Vice-President of Skidmore School Organization.

Miriam Pitts of 168 Wall street, Kingston, member of the class of 1923 at Skidmore School of Arts, Saratoga Springs, N. Y., was recently elected vice-president of the Student Self Government Association.

Since entering Skidmore in 1919 Miss Pitts has held several important offices. Last year she was president of the Freshman class and this year she is president of Skidmore Hall. Miss Pitts is also chairman of the publicity committee of the Christian Association and a member of the executive board of the Student Government Association.

Miss Helen Nelson of Amsterdam, class of 1922, was elected president of the Student Government Association.

LUTHER'S PART IN FAME OF WORMS

(By the Rev. A. Schmidtke.)

Among the towns in the Rhine valley is the city of Worms, up the Rhine from Coblenz about sixty miles. It is one of the many ancient imperial cities of Germany. The town site was occupied before Christ's birth by Celts. When the Gothic races displaced the Celts the name "Worms" or "Lindworms," which means "dragon," was assigned the town. The Burgundians held it in the fifth century and the Frankish kings used it as a residential city. Charlemagne, or Charles the Great, made Worms one of his places of residence and some of his campaigns of conquest proceeded from this place. The territory is a historic battleground where mighty armies met in conflict. Our American soldiers at Coblenz are in the midst of this interesting territory, and well treated by the German people. They feel very much at home there, to such a degree that many of them have no great longing to part with their new-made friends.

In 670 the city of Worms became the seat of a bishop and tradition dates its Christianity back 300 years before that time. In later years Worms became a convention city where representatives of the church assembled and thus got the name "Mother of Diets." The term "diet" is derived from the Latin dies (day) and bears the idea of a fixed date on which an assembly is to occur.

Among the many state covered houses and public buildings, some of them of historic or architectural value, rises the great Romanesque Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul which presents a most solemn appearance. This is the cathedral of the Nibelungenlied. Before its altar Kriemhild's and Brunnhild's eyes flashed up on each other in scorn and ambition. Under the shadow of these ancient stones Gunther and Siegfried and the dark and treacherous Hagen met their tragic fate and took with them to their graves the secret of the Ringgold which had brought the Nibelungs so much misery—and woe. Teaching the world the moral of Wagner's "Ring".

Not goods nor gold,
Nor glory of Gods
Can fashion a blessing for weal,
Can win a blessing from woe—
But love alone!

Worms today looks very much like any other Rhine city might look. Yet the fame of this city will never wane: First, because it is the theater and scene of the great German epic, the lay of the Nibelungs, and second, because here in the providence of God in the year 1521 Dr. Martin Luther, because of his firm stand on God's word and his own conscience, became the hero of all Protestantism. He had already been excommunicated by the pope and now he was to be outlawed by the kaiser. Yet he took his seat and in his hand and defied church and state to the great disaster of the ancient regime. Here, on the 18th day of April, 1521, Luther addressed the great imperial diet and answered the charges that had been made against him by the papal court, and by his insistence upon the Holy Scripture as final authority in faith and moral, he won the victory and thus secured religious and civil liberty to mankind.

Facing the emperor surrounded by the princes of the realm and the representatives of state and church, Luther uttered the following memorable words: "Unless I am convinced by the word of God Himself, by which alone my conscience is bound, I neither can nor will recant anything." "It is neither right nor safe for a Christian to speak against his conscience." "My conscience is bound to the Bible." "I will not flee, much less will I recant." "I fight not for myself, but for the honor of Christ." "Here I stand, I cannot do otherwise. God help me. Amen."

The building where the diet was sitting and witnessed Luther's bold stand before kaiser and kingdom has since crumbled into ruins and the traveler seeks it in vain. Instead there has been erected not far from the historic spot a magnificent monument to the fearless reformer. Luther stands in the center on a high granite pedestal, his right hand on the open Bible. Seated at his feet are: Waldis, Wycliffe, Huss and Savonarola. At the four corners of the walls which surround the central figures—like the ramparts of a mighty fortress, stand the political rulers who sided with Luther. Between them are seated the allegorical figures of reformation cities, the protesting Speyer, the confessing Augsburg and the sorrowing Nuremberg. This is by far the most impressive monument ever erected to commemorate the reformation.

But there is still a greater monument erected to the memory of Luther, a monument not of marble, not of brass—it is the grateful remembrance of the free people who enjoy today the priceless boon that has come to them through his life and work.

Lutherans and many others will next Sunday celebrate the four hundredth anniversary of the Diet at Worms in thanks to God for Luther's stand. The observance of this great event deserves the participation of every Christian.

Friday evening the entire cast of the Albany Avenue Baptist Church entertained the inmates of the Home for the Aged with the musical farce comedy, "The Minister's Wife's New Bonnet." The American Legion

(Copy for This Department Supplied by the American Legion News Service.)

HOLDS TWO LEGION OFFICES

Winchester, Va., Man Is State Historian as Well as Chairman of Americanism Commission.

B. M. Roszel of Winchester, Va., has been entrusted with two offices by the Virginia department of the American Legion. He is state historian as well as chairman of the Department's Americanism Commission. He also serves as historian of his post.

Born in Baltimore, Md., Mr. Roszel was educated in the schools of his state and received the A. B. and Ph. D. degrees from Johns Hopkins University. Afterwards he was a fellow in astronomy and an instructor in mathematics in that institution, and later a teacher of physics, mathematics and chemistry in the Washington high school system, Washington, D. C. From 1903 to 1908 Mr. Roszel was head master of the Seawanee Grammar School, in charge of the preparatory department of the University of the South. Since 1908 he has been superintendent of the Shenandoah Valley Academy, a military school at Winchester, Va.

Mr. Roszel served eighteen months in this country and overseas in the Army and was discharged a major. He has since accepted a similar commission in the Reserve Corps.

TRAVEL PICTURES FOR POSTS

Films Embracing One Thousand Topics, for Use of All Legion Organizations.

By arrangement between the American Legion and the bureau of commerce, economics, the most complete and valuable collection of educational and travel motion picture films in existence will be placed at the disposal of the Legion for free exhibition under the auspices of all posts. The films, which embrace 1,000 separate topics, are the property of the bureau, an official institution the sole aim of which is to advance education and pride in American institutions.

At the instance of national headquarters, the bureau has prepared a special catalogue in which each film is numbered and described. A copy of this catalogue will become the property of each Legion post. The only expense attached to posts ordering the films will be the payment of express charges to and from the nearest distributing center of the bureau. No admission fee may be charged by the post.

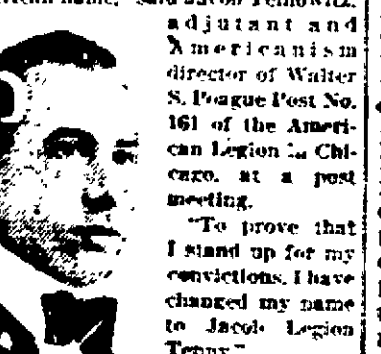

A distributing center for the films will be established in almost every state. Responsibility for the transmission of the catalogues and the information concerning the location of distributing centers to which each post must apply for films, rests with the state departments.

The story of the establishment of the bureau of commerce, economics is that of a fulfiller of a vow which a blind man took years ago, should his sight be restored. Dr. Francis H. Seward, the founder and director of the bureau, vowed to work for the betterment of mankind when he recovered his sight, and the bureau is the result.

LEGION IS HIS MIDDLE NAME

Adjutant and Americanism Director of Chicago Post First to Name Himself After Organization.

"Every American ought to have an American name," said Jacob Teinowitz, adjutant and Americanism director of Walter S. Dwyer Post No. 161 of the American Legion in Chicago, at a post meeting.

"To prove that I stand up for my convictions, I have changed my name to Jacob Legion Teinowitz."

Teinowitz said that there should be a law establishing an American standard of nomenclature and that, in the meantime, it is up to members of the American Legion to set the fashion.

"Teinowitz is a grand old name, but Teinowitz will be easier to pronounce," said Teinowitz. "I'm retaining my first name, Jacob, of course, but I'm adding Legion as a brand new middle name. So far as I know, I'm the first man who has named himself after the American Legion. There couldn't be any better name for a he-man son of an American service man than Legion."

Teinowitz claimed with the first conviction of soldiers from the West side of Chicago and served overseas. He is a lawyer and at the last primary election was a Democratic candidate for municipal judge.

Advertisements of Old. Advertisements were in vogue in ancient Egypt, Greece and Rome. On the walls of Pompeii have been found the advertisements of gladiatorial shows, with rough pictures of favorite gladiators, etc., and indications of the most popular posts.

LEGION HIKERS ARE GREETED

Two California Ex-service Men Report Cordial Treatment by Posts of the Southwest.

The hospitality of the Southwest is reflected in its American Legion posts, according to Van W. Bishop and C. G. Allison, California Legionnaires who are well on their way on a little walk from Los Angeles, Cal., to Mexico City, Mexico, a distance of more than 1,500 miles. Bishop belongs to Los Angeles Post No. 8, and Allison to Irwin Post No. 93 of San Francisco.

Wearily with tramping the dusty hillsides and burdened with packs and other impedimenta, the marchers found rest at a number of Legion posts along the way, according to a letter received from them by the adjutant of the Los Angeles post.

"The posts of the American Legion in the towns where we have stopped have treated us royally. Legion members at Yuma, Ariz., started the good things for us. Then Tucson post fixed us up for two days in a room fitted with bunks for the accommodation of a few fellows who come in and want a place to stay."

"Our next stop was at El Paso for three days. They have a regular home with several rooms and a sleeping porch. A number of the fellows make their home at the club. We arrived in time to attend the funeral of one of the boys brought back from 'over there.' Now, we are at Douglas, where Legion post officers obtained quarters for us. Our plan is to enter Mexico at El Paso or Laredo, Tex."

QUEEN OF LEGION CARNIVAL

Faribault, Minn., Young Woman Honored in Connection With Celebration to Raise Funds.

Miss Tillie Olsen is not posing for a motion picture of fabled days. She has merely assumed her position as Miss Tillie Olsen.

Queen of the Carnival, which the Faribault, Minn., Post of the American Legion staged in that city to raise money for carrying on various post activities.

HALF-HUNDRED LEGION POSTS

Seventeen Foreign Countries and Three Territorial Possessions of Four Continents Represented.

Fifty-one American Legion posts are scattered about the face of the globe outside the continental limits of the United States, according to national headquarters of the ex-service men's organization. Seventeen foreign countries and three territorial possessions of four continents are represented.

The list of territorial posts follows: Anchorage, Valdez, Ketchikan, Juneau, Seward, Wrangell, Fort Liscum, Cordova, Nome, Haines, Fairbanks, Sitka, and Petersburg, all in Alaska; Honolulu, Kealia, Hilo, Kapaua, Wailuku, Schofield Barracks, Fort Kamehameha and Kahului, in Hawaii; and Manila, Cuartel de Espana, Cavite, Fort William McKinley and Corregidor, in the Philippines.

Foreign posts have been formed at Buenos Aires, Argentina; Brussels, Belgium; Rio de Janeiro, Brazil; Montreal, Canada; Chiquiquita, Chile; Shanghai and Peking, China; Havana, Cuba; London, England; Guatemala City, Guatemala; Porto La Rochelle and Glycer, France; Cologne, Germany; Tokyo, Yokohama and Kobe, Japan; Mexico City and Tampico, Mexico; Carro de Paece, Peru; Paltira, Cristobal and Gatun, Panama; Warsaw, Poland; and Santo Domingo, Santo Domingo.

A. E. F. Play Library

An A. E. F. play library has been opened for the use of posts of the American Legion, which produce plays for home talent production. The present comedy, "Still a Pretty Boy," is one of the feature plays now offered to posts. It tells the story of a neighbor who goes as a girl welfare worker in France, saves a party of A. E. F. soldiers from court martial, chapters two charming daughters of a French nobleman, and saves the boys from drowning in the River Seine. The address of the bureau is A. E. F. Library, 46 West Tenth street, New York City.

The Oceanic Road

A novel industry, which involves rapid expansion, in Canada, is the development of the sea trout, the salmon, with the cooperation of scientists, has proved that trout can be produced commercially and sold profitably at a cheap rate.

Use FREEMAN advertising regularly and conservatively and results will surely follow.

There's More than Flavor

Many foods, while pleasing to taste, contain but little nourishment.

Grape-Nuts

combines with its rich, sweet flavor the full nutriment of wheat and malted barley which makes it an ideal food. It has been the favorite ready-to-eat cereal for a quarter of a century.

OFFICIAL

More famed as a comedian than a ball player is Nick Altrock, coach of the Washington Senators. For Nick, a natural born comedian, has kept hundreds of thousands of baseball fans amused with his antics during his many years on the diamond. He is a real pantomime artist, and is as much of a drawing card as the rest of the Washington club combined. His one-man argument is a classic enjoyed by fans in all cities of the American League circuit and his tight rope performance alone the foul line is also the work of an artist. Altrock, in his day, was a great pitcher. Though just a comedian to the fans he is a professor of baseball, knowing every single of the game from a to z. One of his most important duties is keeping the Washington players in good humor when things are not breaking just right for the team.

Feet Is Full of Chemicals.

Aside from its value as fuel and its use in agriculture, sand has a score of other uses, and its field is being constantly widened. A long list of chemicals are extracted from it.
